CHARGE IOWANS WITH TREASON

Four Men Seized and Other Arrests Expected Shortly:

MUST CONVERSE IN ENGLISH

Is Orders Issued to Germans By Federal Officers When In Public.

Lowden, Ia.—Four persons, three of them past sixty years, were arrested by Federal officers and charged with treason and resisting the Government. Half a dozen others were questioned and it was announced more arrests were expected. This action followed an outbreak that approached a riot between citizens and pro-Germans.

The prisoners are Albert Schaefer, 65 years old, retired farmer; William Richman, 66, furniture dealer; Ernest Meier, 65, retired farmer, and Carl Gerhl, 36, farmer. All are reported to be white.

United States Marshall Moore and Deputy Healy arrived here from Cedar Rapids after they had been informed that this town of 700 population was a hotbed of sedition. Richman has a son who enlisted in the army and he is reported to have said that he would rather see the boy dead than bearing arms against Germany. The charges against the other men have not been made public.

Bitter Feeling.

The trouble began early in July and it was said to have been accentuated by the dragging of a German flag behind an automobile in the Fourth of July parade. Feeling between the loyal and pro-German elements has increased since then, fanned by public and private utterances.

Tuesday night the Rev. John Reichert, pastor of the German Evangelical church here, was arrested on a charge of treason. He was questioned in the office of Daniel D. McGillivray, an attorney, and then taken to Cedar Rapids. News of the minister's arrest spread and a crowd gathered before McGillivray's office, threatening to lynch him. A few blows were struck, but cool heads finally prevailed.

Must Converse In English.

The Mayor and marshal of the town and the Sheriff of Cedar county were summoned to conference with the Federal men today.

Mayor Louis Hoeltje protested his loyalty to the United States, but admitted that he had taken no steps toward the arrest of troublemakers. The Germans questioned by Marshal Moore were warned to conduct all public conversations in English.

William Goldsmith was arrested at Clarence, Ia., today, on a charge of treason, after he had been severely beaten by a traveling salesman for his alleged treasonable utterances.

TRADE COMMISSION TO PROBE FLOUR MILLING

Washington.—The Federal Trade Commission will begin next week a flour mill investigation as a part of its general food inquiry. A corps of investigators under Dr. E. O. Merchant, of the commission, will leave for Minneapolis within a few days. Other agents of the commission will go later to Chicago.

Decision to go into the subject of conference with officials of the food administration is taken at the Setacon administration. At the request of the food administration the commission will take up soon also the subject of cost and trade conditions in the baking industry.

CONDENMED TO DIE; IS IN FIRST DRAFT

Paducah, Ky., Aug. 3.—Lube Martin, negro, condemned to die for the murder of Guthrie Duguid in Calloway county, was one of the first men drafted in Calloway.

Martin gave as his exemption plea the fact that he was condemned to die. The negro's appeal from the sentence now is in the Appellate Court.

Martin is the negro over whose case Judge C. H. Bush's life was threatened by a Murray mob.

MOB IN ARMS OPPOSE

U. S. DRAFT PLANS

Bands of Negroes, Tenants and Indians Spreading Terror

In Oklahoma.

Murkogee, Okla., Aug. 3.—Fighting between draft rioters and officers is going on twenty-five miles north of Ada, according to Under-Sheriff Purvine, of Okmulgee county, who received a report from there late tonight.

Oklahoma City, Okla., Aug. 3.—Groups of men numbering probably 400 in the aggregate, have armed themselves and were gathering in several places in South-Central Oklahoma tonight prepared to resist forcibly their selection as soldiers under the draft law. Discovery by officials late tonight, of the existence of a new band of resisters who are thought to have established a base near Shawnee, a few miles southeast of this city, has increased the anxiety of State officials as to the probability of confining the agitation within the five counties already affected.

A hundred armed men are patrolling the streets of Aileen. Henryetta also is filled with armed citizen-soldiers.

At the direction of Gov. Williams, who hesitates to use national guardsmen against the resisters, hundreds of armed civilians have concentrated in Seminole, Hughes, Pontotoc, Okmulgee, Pottawatomie counties and will make an effort tomorrow to arrest the resisters.

Several Arrests Made.

According to late reports to Gov. Williams one of the bands has located near Sasakwa, another is at Holdenville, another at Wekoka and the last heard from had gathered at Rock Crossing on the South Canadian river.

Several arrests have been made of men charged with resisting the draft throughout the affected localities, and one, a Socialist agitator, was arrested at Holdenville, when it was discovered he was carrying a grip filled with ammunition. Sheriffs of the five counties have informed the Governor that the situation is out of their control and State officials await with anxiety the outcome of the attempt being made by civilian posses to arrest the men tomorrow. The bands are composed for the most part of negroes, Indians and farmers, who are tenants on the lands held by the Government in trust for Indians. It has not been determined what influence was behind the movement to resist the draft law.

CATTLE CLUB AT EARLY DATE

John Boone, of Echols, and Leon Barnard, of Rockport, have just received from near Chicago a thoroughbred Holstein calf each, and are awfully well pleased with their purchases. Several in that section are in interested in the thoroughbred stock proposition, and it is possible that County Agent Browder will organize a calf club for the boys of that section.

We are glad to see our people of Ohio county taking an interest in the raising of fine stock, as we believe in the long run blood will tell.

RESOURCES OF NATIONAL BANKS MAKE NEW RECORD

Increases $2,224,000,000 In Year—Deposits Grow Rapidly.

Washington.—Resources of the National Banks at the last call, June 20, reached the highest figures ever recorded controller Williams announced tonight, totalling $16,151,000,000, or $2,224,000,000 more than June 30, 1916.

Deposits in National Banks, $12,769,000,000, increased during the year to the extent of $1,913,000,000, but fell $306,000,000 below the figures of May 1, the last previous call.

The reduction is primarily due, it is thought, to Liberty Loan financing. Other returns show:

Loans and discounts totalling $8,161,000,000, an increase of $1,139,000,000 during the year; bills payable and re-discounts, $271,000,000, an increase of $303,000,000; United States Bonds held by banks $905,000,000, an increase of $174,000,000; specific and legal tenders on hand $1,482,000,000, an increase of $28,000,000; bonds and securities other than those of Governments, $1,843,000,000, an increase of $315,000,000.

Reserves, shown for the last time under the old condition which permitted banks to carry a portion of reserves with other than Federal Reserve Banks totalled $2,310,000,000, an increase of $234,000,000, and $842,000,000 more than minimum requirements.

PLAN IS ADOPTED

SEEK COMFORT FOR PERSHING'S SAMMIES

Housing of American Troops in France Under Way—To Have Club Houses.

(By Daniel Dillon.)

Headquarters of the American Expeditionary Force in France.—Maj. Gen. Silbert, the American commander, already is occupying himself with the problem of housing the American troops comfortably and warmly during the coming winter. Conditions in France are radically different from those in the United States, and the American commander is devising ways and means of effecting a happy medium.

The French homes in which the "Sammies" are billeted invariably are not heated and in many cases during the cold season the horses of the farming people and flocks of chickens are kept indoors. Furthermore, the French people allow for little or no ventilation. The French and British soldiers have found a way to keep themselves happy in the winter months. They sleep in the hay of the various buildings and in that way keep warm and at the same time furnish themselves with enough air.

The Americans, on the other hand, desire better living conditions and intend to do everything to achieve them.

The plans as now contemplated provide the construction of frame club buildings for each company of an American regiment, these places to afford means for lounging, general recreation and amusements. The buildings are to be well heated.

It is believed the buildings will furnish the desired solution. It is pointed out that during the day the men will be actively working and in this way will keep warm and healthy. The whole trouble will present itself when the "Sammies" are off duty, but it is hoped that conditions will be satisfied by the erection of the frame structures.

Unpleasant quartering, military officials point out, leads to brooding, with consequent low spirits and an impairment of morale. The troops, instead of being thrown on their own resources in seeking diversion, could use the club houses until the bed hour. Then the provision of plenty of blankets would make for comfortable sleeping.

The various American companies have organized their baseball teams and a number of games between these teams have been scheduled. The men are taking a keen interest in the work of their company organizations and much rivalry is displayed.

Mail from the United States is arriving steadily and the amounts that are going out are very heavy. The folks at home are not being stinted in the matter of correspondence.

CABBAGE POURS ONTO MARKET; "PICKLE IT," GOVERNMENT PLEADS

Washington.—The rainy spell has resulted in such an enormous cabbage crop that the Agriculture Department has issued an appeal for the making of sauer kraut in large quantities in the interest of conservation.

The department's reports indicate that cabbages have come into the great market centers in the last few days in unprecedented lots, and that thousands of heads are about to rot in cans and on wharves. The Government's food experts say sauer kraut can be made with little labor from fresh cabbage producing a food endorsed as healthful and appetizing.

U. S. DESTROYERS

Make Submarines Dive For Safety Without a Shot.

American Naval Base in British Waters, July 31.—American destroyers reported having engaged two submarines simultaneously six miles distant, causing both of them to speed away and submerge without firing a shot—typical of the behavior of submarines when they see destroyers.

One of the submarines had just sunk a steamer by gunfire; the second was attacking a merchantman when the destroyers opened fire. The second submarine, which is described as a super-type almost as long as a destroyer, raced off and submerged at the first shots, the other, which had sunk the steamer, displaying unusual boldness and remained up several minutes while the destroyer dropped shells around her. Only when a shell splashed within 25 yards of the submarine did she submerge, according to the crew of the steamer, who watched the attack from a small boat close by, and who later were rescued by the destroyers and brought here. A French tanker bound for America limped into port with a 30-foot hole in her bow as a result of a fight with a submarine. The tanker was twice attacked. In the first, early in the voyage, she easily beat off the submarine and reached a point 400 miles toward America. She was then attacked by another submarine, the shells of which, despite the stout resistance of the tanker's gunners, shattered the pilot house, smashed the compass, and tore a gaping hole below the water line. The tanker began to settle and the crew abandoned the ship, the submarine disappearing. The crew rowed away in a rough sea, but later, surprised that the tanker did not sink, returned to her and managed, without bearings, to bring her to port.

KENTUCKY WOMEN ARE RESPONDING TO APPEAL FOR FOOD CONSERVATION

Washington.—Wherever "war gardens" are flourishing successfully and the prices of perishable fruits and vegetables are reasonable, housewives will help themselves and the Nation by starting at once to can, preserve, pickle and dry.

Telegraphic reports coming to the United States Department of Agriculture from Kentucky reveal that there are large surpluses of certain perishable fruits and vegetables which will go to waste unless energetic measures are taken to conserve them.

If these products are not bought and conserved now, they will deteriorate. Both common sense and patriotism who are looking ahead, co-operate with the Emergency Food Conservation Campaign of the Department of Agriculture.

That the women of Kentucky have responded promptly to President Wilson's appeal to secure "nothing short of the perfection of organization" in order to cope with this situation, is indicated by reports coming daily to Washington.

The producers have responded promptly to the appeal issued by the President at the beginning of the war, and Nature has been bountiful," declared Secretary of Agriculture Houston. "The time has come for us, as consumers and conservers, to do our share."

STOP INTERNED GERMANS FROM SIGNALING AT CAMP

San Francisco.—German aliens interned on Angel Island here have been refused permission to continue using signal flags for amusement purposes through an order issued by the commandant of the island.

It was declared the action was taken as the result of investigations conducted by the Department of Justice agents after they had dismantled two arc lights, mounted on poles surmounting two tall trees on the summit of Redwood Peak, in Alameda county.

Investigation was made into reports that men were seen on Angel Island wagging toward the Alameda county shore and it was thought the Department of Justice agents connected the signals from the island with the arc lights.

SOMNAMBULIST FALLS OUT OF WINDOW; BREAKS NECK

Frank Rader Found Lying On Sidewalk In Front Of His Home.

In a dying condition Frank Rader, 42 years old, connected with a produce house, was taken to the city hospital, says the Courier-Journal. He was found with his skull fractured and neck broken, lying on the sidewalk in front of 243 East Jefferson street, where he has a room on the third floor. The supposition is that while asleep he walked from the window of his third-story room.

John Rader, patrolman, is a brother of Frank Rader. The latter was unmarried and lived alone.

DRAFT BRIDE Liable TO PROSECUTION

Women Who Wed to Help Husband Evade Call to Colors

Guilty as "Slackers."

Washington.—Women who marry men merely to help them to be "slackers" are liable to criminal prosecution, Provost Marshal General Crowder has ruled.

News of this decision was received with a considerable jolt in many cities where the marriage license clerks have been kept busy the last week issuing licenses to men of draft age who are liable on the first call to the colors.

Hasty marriages made since July 20, the date of the army draft drawing, in an effort to escape conscription through the claim of a dependent wife, will not be considered ground for discharge unless the wife is actually dependent on the husband's daily labor.

Provost Marshal General Crowder ruled that "marriage is not of itself a valid ground for making claim for discharge."

Dependency is a matter of fact, not of law, Gen. Crowder pointed out.

"A man whose wife is mainly dependent on his daily labor for support," he said, "may claim exemptions on that ground. Only the exemption boards can determine this fact. Where dependency is claimed and circumstances show a marriage hastily consummated since July 20 by a man whose number is high on the available list, the actual fact of dependency must be closely scrutinized."

In his ruling, Gen. Crowder adhered strictly to President Wilson's draft regulations which draw no distinction between a dependent wife acquired before or after drawing. Secretary Baker, however, advocated refusing exemption to any man married after the drawing, saying the draft should be a prior claim, but this course will not be followed.

Fears of some officials that delay in obtaining materials and sufficient labor for national army cantonments would postpone the mobilization long past September 1 were dissipated by an announcement by Secretary Baker that seventy-eight per cent of the cantonment materials now are on the ground, and that reports indicate everything will be in readiness, or nearly so, in another month.

GASOLINE AND THE FOOL

A few days ago gasoline which was being used as a cleaner was poured into boiling water and an explosion resulted. A few days later one man was cleaning an automobile with gasoline while another was scraping dirt and oil off of the machine with a knife. The knife blade touched a live wire of the starting system. The spark set off the gasoline and the automobile was damaged to the extent of $500 by fire. These illustrations of the highly inflammable nature of gasoline should be sufficient to warn anyone of the danger that attends handling gasoline in the vicinity of fire, yet the spectacle of the smart boy of the street-filling station smoking a cigarette while delivering gasoline into an automobile tank is common.

The vapor from gasoline may cause an explosion, communicating with the fluid, if the breeze blows it into contact with fire, but the smart boy with the cigarette could not forego the pleasure of smoking while filling the tank. It would be beneath his dignity to appear afraid of gasoline in proximity to cigarettes. He would rather risk murder and suicide than suspend his smoking while he is engaged in handling gasoline.

Now and again a fire occurs as a result of smoking where gasoline is exposed. Often, of course, the risk is taken without a fire or a tragedy resulting. That the chances against catastrophe are twenty to one, or 100 to one, does not lessen the degree of the criminal negligence, or criminal smartaleckship, of the smart young man who would not think of showing the white feather by throwing away his cigarette before turning on the gasoline.—[Courier-Journal]

"ON TO BERLIN" IS AMERICAN SLOGAN

German Will Be Entered By Air
Route—United States Preparing.

Washington.—Berlin will be entered by the air route and the United States is stacking up its resources behind the allies to furnish enough machines to make the conquest possible.

This was the declaration of Brig.-Gen. George O. Squier, commander of the signal corps.

"I am not here to make public our plans or to indulge in prophetic figures," said Gen. Squier. "The closest estimate I can give about our aeroplane plan is about this."

"The determination of the allied governments is to enter Germany by the air route, and the United States government is going to provide enough machines to make itself felt in putting this program through."

"This is not saying that we will construct 22,000 airplanes or 1,000,000 or 10 or a dozen. If I knew how many machines we would construct or can construct in a year, I wouldn't tell, because this would be telling Von Hindenburg; and he'd thank us for the information. The best time to tell the enemy about any military program is after that program has been carried out and put into effect."

"Germany announced her 42-centimeter guns by hauling them up to the battle line and firing shells of hitherto unheard of caliber into Belgium. After the guns were built and placed and in operation she encouraged the press in glorifying the results. The Germans are a nation of press agents, but they never let publicity tamper with a government secret."

"Of course, the public wants to know what we are going to do with the $40,000,000 which Congress has appropriated for the aviation service. Well, it's safe to say that we will spend that money and probably much more on the air route into Germany. That's about all we are going to say."

"People who are so cocksure about our determination to build 22,000 airplanes seem to be inspired with the notion that aeroes are all made on the same pattern, turned out of the factory as alike as two cubes of sugar. As a matter of fact, airplanes vary in cost between $9,000 and $75,000, and a comprehensive aerial program must include everything from a simple school machine to a flying dreadnaught. New inventions are continually being tried out, new appliances and methods must be installed in order to keep up with the times—or a little ahead of them. The German general staff—that mysterious body working and thinking all the time somewhere between Berlin and Constantinople—aren't going to let things remain at a standstill over there, and we may be called upon to revise our whole system in order to wreck theirs. That is what, which, as I have explained, is the most elastic thing in the world."

LEAVE SPUDS IN GROUND, ADVISES MR. SWEARINGEN

That the farmers of Kentucky allow their potatoes to remain in the ground until November 1, unless special demands are made for them before this time, is the word that Embry L. Swearingen, chairman of the Kentucky State Council of Defense, is sending out to hundreds of farmers in the State. This action is in accordance with the work that is being carried on by the National Council of Defense throughout the country.

E. S. Monohan, a prominent farmer of Jefferson county and a member of the council in communication with Mr. Swearingen, gives the following correct method by which to preserve potatoes:

"Dig potatoes after they have remained in the ground until about November 1. Place them in a cellar of as near an equal temperature as can be had—40 or 50 degrees. If a cellar cannot be had, place the potatoes in mounds. Then cover with six inches of straw or hay, and cover the straw or hay with six inches of dirt. Repeat alternately until the covering is twelve inches each of dirt."

and hay or straw. If the temperature should go below zero, put on "V" shape, to turn the water. If the cellar has a furnace partition off a part in which to keep the potatoes, for the reason that if kept too warm the potatoes will sprout, thereby losing their strength.

PIGEONS IN THE TANKS

Ingenuity of the French Is Hard To Beat.

A correspondent in a morning paper tells us that in addition to guns the tanks carry pigeons for sending out messages in case of need. This is yet another use to which pigeons have been put in this war. But the ingenuity of the French in this respect is hard to beat. In the War Museum at Hahov is an apparatus which shows how our Allies have attempted to get news from their invaded territories. It consists of a balloon, which carries forty carrier pigeons. In floating over the land now occupied by the enemy it drops from time to time a little parachute, to which is attached a basket containing a carrier pigeon, an aluminum message holder, several sheets of thin paper, pencil, and detailed instructions for use. The finder of the basket, after writing a message, has only to slip it into the holder in the bird's leg and set it free. The homing instinct then allows the pigeon to find its way back to the French lines.

POULTRYMEN URGED TO PRODUCE INFERTILE EGGS

Blood Rings Form When Fertile Egg Becomes Warm—Remove Rooster When Hatching Season Is Over.

The Bi-Weekly Farm Bulletin wishes to again direct the attention of its readers to the useless and enormous waste caused by the production of fertile eggs. Farmers lose $45,000,000 annually from bad methods of producing and handling eggs. At least one-third of this loss is preventable, because it is due to the partial hatching of fertile eggs, which have been allowed to become warm enough to begin to incubate. Eggs will be scarce and high this winter and eggs having blood rings will be lost.

The rooster makes the egg fertile. The fertile eggs makes the blood ring. You can save $15,000,000 now lost from blood rings by keeping the male bird from your flock after the hatching season is over.

The rooster does not help the hens to lay. He merely fertilizes the germ of the egg. The fertile germ in hot weather quickly become a blood ring, which spoils the egg for food and market. Summer heat has the same effect on fertile eggs as the hen or incubator.

Infertile eggs will not become blood rings.

After the hatching season cook, sell, or pen your rooster. Your hens not running with a male bird will produce infertile eggs—quality eggs that keep best and market best.

Heat is the great enemy of eggs, both fertile and infertile. Farmers are urged to follow these simple rules, which cost nothing but time and thought and will add dollars to the poultry yard returns:

1. Keep the nests clean; provide one nest for every four hens.
2. Gather the eggs twice daily.
3. Keep the eggs in a cool, dry room or cellar.
4. Market the eggs at least twice a week.
5. Sell, kill, or confine all male birds as soon as the hatching season is over.

WHOLE FAMILY SHOT BY GERMAN TROOPS

Father, Mother and Daughters
Executed On Unproved Spy Charge.

London.—A dispatch received by the Wireless Press from Amsterdam says:

"The German authorities at Liege, Belgium, arrested, tried and sentenced to death within three days an influential Liege merchant named Groneret, his wife and their two daughters, aged 20 and 14 years, on the unproved charge of espionage.

"The father and mother were both shot to death in the presence of their daughters. The latter were offered their freedom if they revealed the names of their parents' accomplices.

The girls refused, the eldest saying:

"If we speak we might cause fifty people to be killed. We would rather die alone."

"She was immediately shot. The youngest girl then was tortured, outraged and also shot."

RENEW WORN-OUT PASTURES

Sweet Clover Is Valuable Soil Renovator and Excellent Forage For Stock.

"Grow sweet clover" is the answer for poor soil or worn-out pastures which no longer support live stock profitably, according to investigators of the United States Department of Agriculture, who have found that thousands of acres of sweet clover are furnishing annually abundant pasture for all kinds of stock on soil where other crops, made but little growth.

In many portions of Middle West sweet clover bids fair to solve serious pasture problems, according to Farmers' Bulletin 820, "Sweet Clover; Utilization" just issued. Native pastures which no longer provided more than a scant living for a summer steer on 4 or 5 acres, when properly seeded to sweet clover, will produce sufficient forage to carry at least one animal to the acre throughout the season. Dairy cattle, horses, sheep and hogs all do well on sweet clover. Land which is too rough or too depleted for cultivation or permanent pastures which have become thin and weedy may be improved greatly by drilling in after disking a few pounds of sweet clover seed per acre. Not only will the sweet clover add considerably to the quality and quantity of the pasture, but the growth of the grasses will be improved by the addition of large quantities of humus and nitrogen to the soil.

Sweet clover has proved to be an excellent pasture crop on many of the best farms in the North Central States. In this part of the country it is often seeded alone and pastured from the middle or the latter part of June until frost, or it may be sown with grain and pastured after harvest.

Infertile eggs will not become blood rings.

OUR TICKET.

We believe that the list of gentlemen selected by the Democratic party will appeal strongly to the conservative citizens of the county who are now more interested in the betterment of public conditions than in partisan politics.

For Representative, J. B. (Rausen) Weller, is one of our most prominent farmers, and while making a success of his own affairs, has been very active and liberal in advancing the cause of farmers and laborers, contributing unstintingly, of his time and means. With a head full of "hoss" sense and practical business knowledge—backbone as big as a telephone pole (and almost as long)—with the best interests of the county at heart—he will serve with credit to the county if elected to this important office.

L. B. Tichenor, the nominee for County Judge, has made the agricultural interests a special study; is an up-to-date, conservative and practical in all public affairs, and has the exceptional ability and energy so necessary to a successful administration.

For County Attorney, Judge A. S. Glenn, has been selected, and an opportunity is given the people to have for their advocate one of the ablest lawyers in the State, as well as one who takes the deepest interests in everything for the improvement of the county and its citizenship.

For the important office of Sheriff it would be hard to find a better qualified or a more suitable man than J. E. (Bad) Bennett whose honesty, integrity, fairness and soundness are conceded on all sides.

It is a fact, however, that if intrusted with this office he will serve the people efficiently and impartially.

The election of Guy L. Robertson to the office of County Clerk would not only mean his duties would be performed faithfully and capably, but it would be a stimulus and encouragement to him and other young men who are thrown upon their own resources and prepare themselves for public service. From the humble leg cabin on the farm Guy Robertson has, by the dint of hard work, become very thorough in his business education and possesses exceptional qualifications for this office.

Orza Shultz' record as Superintendent, together with his standing as a citizen and his devotion to school interests, guarantee the very highest degree of efficiency if he is intrusted to this office.

To have charge of the jail and other public buildings, the nominee, Newton R. Bass, is especially fitted and well adapted. He would make an ideal jailor.

D. M. (Mervin) Howard, our candidate for Assessor, is a capable enough to fit in with all the necessary qualifications for the duties of the office.

For Magistrate, A. Y. Hagerman, in the Hartford district; R. C. Tichenor, Centertown; Ben W. Taylor, in Bartletts; L. H. Keen, in Fortsville, and J. L. Smith, in Sulphur Springs, are all good men. By reason of the fact that each Justice is a member of the Fiscal Court, unusual interest is being taken in these races.

From top to bottom we have a ticket made up of clean men, who have been selected without the least suspicion of fraud, combination or corruptive influences, and they go to all the people with no apologies or explanations as to their title to the nomination, and will command the earnest support of a host of voters outside the party lines. So be it.

SERVICE AND REWARD.

The Wedding family, a large, prominent and influential one, has since the Civil War been working and voting for the candidates of the Republican party. This they did when there was no hope for office holding—when the party was much in the minority. They bore the burdens in the heat of the day without hope of reward. Some of the ablest speakers as well as the most effective workers for the party have been members of this pioneer family in Ohio county. Notwithstanding all this they have asked little and received less. Judge Wedding's popularity with the masses forced his nomination and election as County Judge eight years ago. He served with credit to the party and the county, but he served impartially, treating citizens of all parties with justice and courtesy. As an officer he was no politicalollar, and hence he displeased some, and the customary endorsement was denied him. In Saturday's primary the fact was emphasized that no Weddings were wanted on the ticket. J. T. Wedding sought the nomination for Jailer, but it should not be so. We are told that one effective argument was that Judge Wedding would likely be the nominee for Judge and it would not do to have two of the same name on the ticket. At the same time it was being urged that Judge had no chance whatever and his friends should choose between two others.

We have said and we repeat that both parties must nominate clean men and do it fairly or the people will be heard from in the final election.

Sympathy is freely expressed for Mrs. L. S. Mason, who so indomitably and earnestly pressed her claims for the nomination for School Superintendent. Up to the last ten days it looked like a walkover for her, but, "there is many a slip 'twix the cup and the lip" and Mrs. Mason, who have realized that "something has happened" because they did not "stand-in." Such are the fortunes of war and politics.

Those who have married since July 29 in order to evade the selective draft, and present themselves for exemption indicating that the marriage took place solely for that purpose, are liable to prosecution according to Prost Marshal Gen. Gendron. The wives, who married solely for the purpose of helping their husbands evade the draft, are also subject to prosecution.

Chickens $10 apiece and butter $5 per pound; fat geese $11 and $12 apiece and everything else in proportion is what they have to pay in Austria. This is an indication of the food shortage there, and is possibly the foundation of the peace rumors emanating from that country.

This ought to bring out the best canners in the country! The government has offered $5,000 in prizes to be given for the best canned vegetables to be shown at town exhibits, County and State fairs. Get busy, Ohio county housewives and "lop" off a dollar or so of that $5,000.

You may call it "unfair" administration or anything you please, but what the people in the State said Saturday very conclusively was that they want the State-wide Amendment submitted by its friends and not its enemies.

Dispatches say that the Kaiser has promoted his second son, Prince Frederick, Chief of the First Pomeranian Regiment Field Artillery. "Me und Gott" being so closely associated possibly the Emperor thinks he can insure the success of his son.

Notice has again been served to our friend, J. Lee Wedding, that he is to be seen and heard on all occasions when the State's ticket is to be reckoned but that when election day arrives he and his are expected to vote and not be voted for.

A man by the name of George Michaelis of Glenco, L. L., has changed his name to that of George Woodbridge because he does not want to bear the same name as the German Chancellor. We can't blame you, George, we would, too.

Cucumbers and tomatoes in the Celville district, about fifty miles from Spokane, Wash., suffered last week from frost. The same vegetables in this part of the country might have suffered, but it was not from frost.

The Courier-Journal says that Senator Sheppard "believes in pumping virtue into the people by legislative process." Well, isn't that better than pumping booze into them by way of the saloon?

"Prices of vegetables fast going to smash on Chicago market," says dispatch. Wonder if they smash as hard as those rotten tomatoes we throw out of our garden?

road has been permitted to drop 14 trains from its schedule. Something we don't have to worry about over here on the M. H. & E.

The elimination race is over. Now for the final preparation for the derby in November.

Only 196 women voted in the primary—51 for Howard and 145 for Mrs. Mason.

WINNER OF TRIP

TO STATE FAIR

In Boys' Agricultural Club is Haskell Bennett—Raymond Veiser Close Second.

The examination of some of the members of the Boys' Agricultural Club of Ohio county, to determine the winner of the free trip to the State Fair this year, was held by County Agent W. W. Brewster Friday, and was participated in by only a small percentage of the members of the club. They were examined in the agricultural course given them by County Agent Brewster.

This examination was a very rigid one, and it is considered remarkable, indeed, the high grades that these boys made, especially the four highest grades.

These papers were graded by F. E. Merriman, District Agent of Extension Work for this district, and Mr. Royce Iglesias. Both of these gentlemen say that the boys stood the best examination they had ever known boys of their ages to stand.

Following are the averages made by the boys participating:

Haskell Bennett	99 1/2
Raymond Veiser	99 1/2
Clark Mackay	97
Russell Brown	93 3/4
John Tanner	93 1/2

RESTRANDING ORDER HOLDS

Frankfort, Ky., Aug. 3.—Chief Justice W. E. Settle, of the Court of Appeals, today overruled a motion for a writ of prohibition against Circuit Judge Slack restraining the County Judge of Ohio county from entering an order restraining the magisterial district of the county. This was done under an order of the Fiscal Court. A commission was appointed and its findings approved over exceptions filed to the report. Later an injunction was secured which Judge Slack made final.

The above is incorrect in so far as it reports that Judge Slack's judgment was sustained. Nothing was submitted to Judge Settle except a motion for writ of prohibition against Judge Slack. This was overruled on the ground that a single judge cannot grant a writ of prohibition or dissolve one already granted. The case was not submitted on its merits or so considered. It will be decided by the Court of Appeals in September.

GOVERNMENT CAN HAVE ALL, SAYS ARMOUR HEAD

Head of Big Chicago Packing Industry Tells What He Thinks About the "Situation."

Chicago, Ill.—Orden Armour, president of Armour & Co., returned home from attending war supply conferences in the East. He was at the daily council of packers at the yards when he was asked what he thought of the situation.

"I'll tell you what I think," he replied.

"The Government of the United States can have Armour & Co."

"The Government of the United States can have J. Ogden Almon."

"The Government of the United States can have any man or any group of men of Armour & Co."

"There will be no requests for exemptions. When a man is irreplaceable the Government will be so notified and it can take its choice of where it wants him to serve."

"Whether it is patriotism or self-interest that moves us counts little in the actual outcome. We may not all realize it, but as a nation and as free men we have staked all and shall win or lose all."

"That's what I think about the situation."

MRS. S. T. BARNETT SERIOUSLY HURT IN COLORADO

Mrs. S. T. Barnett, who with her husband, left here about ten days ago for a visit to relatives in Colorado, sustained very serious injuries since her arrival there, according to a letter from Mrs. Barnett to Mrs. Kate Hildick and Mrs. C. M. Barnett. It seems that Mrs. Barnett was going down into the cellar at the home of the relative she was visiting in Littleton, and the door fell, striking her on the head, dislocating several joints of her spine. Though able to write back to friends and relatives, Mrs. Barnett was suffering considerably from her injuries.

SATURDAY'S PRIMARY.

The primary election Saturday was quiet, though spirited. In some of the Republican races, there were only three friendly contests among the Democrats, but practically every Republican nomination was hotly contested. In some cases charges of "slates" combinations, steam-rollers and other political manipulations of party bosses are made as seriously affecting the results and putting the "cabosh" on several loyal party men who did not happen to be in favor with some of the heretofore "tepliners" and expert slate-makers.

J. R. Weller was nominated for Representative over J. L. Phillips by a majority of 566, and L. B. Tichenor received 562 more votes for the Democratic nomination for County Judge than his opponent, S. S. May. Newt Baize was nominated as the Democratic candidate for Jailer by a plurality of 276 over L. O. Minton, runner-up. The candidates for the other county offices on the Democratic ticket were declared the nominees without opposition.

In the Republican races L. L. Embry received a majority of 355 over J. C. Hill, runner-up, for the nomination for Representative. The race for County Judge developed into a neck-and-neck race between R. B. Martin and Mack Cook, the latter emerging victor by a majority of 32 votes. Claude Blankenship was nominated for County Clerk over L. L. Condit by a plurality of 1612, and S. A. Bratcher for Sheriff, received 393 more votes than his nearest opponent. G. A. Ralph. In the race for Super of School E. S. Howard was victor by a majority of 21 over Mrs. I. S. Vinson.

The Jailer's race proved to be a three-horse affair with Worth Tichenor winning over J. W. Duvall, his nearest opponent, by a majority of 63 votes, with M. C. Schreder only 6 votes behind Duvall.

KILLED ON TRIAL FLIGHT

Son of Farmer Mayor Fleischmann Meets Death in Hydro-Aeroplane.

New York.—Charles Fleischmann, son of Julius L. Fleischmann, former Mayor of Cincinnati, was instantly killed Wednesday when the hydro-aeroplane in which he was flying collapsed in Great South bay.

Harry Witz, pilot of the machine, also was killed.

Fleischmann, who was a member of the First Battalion Aviation Corps, had left the naval station at Bay Shore, Long Island, for a ride with Witz, who owned the machine and gave exhibition flights. They had ridden to a height of about 100 feet when the machine was seen to turn over and Fleischmann was thrown out, falling in shallow water. Witz, who was trapped to his seat, went down with the plane.

Persons on board a power boat witnessed the accident and recovered the bodies. It was said the noise of an explosion was heard just before the machine dropped.

PRESS AGENT STORY ENACTED IN REAL LIFE AT EVANSTON

Chicago.—Fate has a habit of making the slickest press agent that ever spun a tale look silly when it is so minded. For instance, Frank Stanley stood in front of a moving picture theater in Evanston exhibiting his skill as a lariat thrower.

A screen suddenly rent the municipality, and along came a frightened horse dragging Fred Martin over the cobblestones. Wiz-z-z went the lariat, alighting around the runaway horse's neck. The animal came to a stop.

Fred was saved. And not a solitary press agent in sight.

LUCK IN AN AIRPLANE.

Curious Bit of Good Fortune That Saved an Army Aviator. Many an army aviator owes his life to miraculous good fortune, like the British aviator whose escape is described in "Tales of the Flying Servicemen" by C. G. Grey.

An officer went out on a bombing expedition and met a German machine. In order to save weight he had left his small arms behind him, but he thought it was a pity to pass by a good target, and so he decided to drop a bomb on him. But dropping a bomb on a swiftly moving mark is not the same as firing at a fixed point. So he missed the German. Unfortunately for him, he also exposed himself to the fire of the enemy and received a rifle bullet in the thigh.

To be strictly accurate, the bullet struck his trousers pocket, hit a five franc piece, broke itself and yet still stood. What was the tensile strength of the mace that Godfrey of Bouillon or Richard of the Lion Heart wielded? How far, in other words, could it have been stretched lengthwise before it parted? No one knows.

But the automobile metallurgist is sure that it was not the equal in that respect of a modern valve stem—thin little member that can be extended half its length in a testing machine before it snaps in two.

As soon as the metallurgist discovered that the properties of steel could be subtly changed by the addition of very small quantities of such elements as chromium, carbon, manganese, nickel, tungsten or vanadium—so soon, in other words, as the problem of making the automobile durable and safe had been solved by research—the designer ventured to consider the economics of motoring. Heavy automobiles endure, but they consume much fuel, and they wear out expensive tires very rapidly. Light automobiles are more cheaply maintained. And so new demands were made on the laboratory in the effort to save weight without sacrificing strength or safety.

Mrs. T. B. Petrie and daughters' Misses Lella and Ruth Petrie who have been spending a few weeks with Mr. and Mrs. Petrie's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Fogle, will leave for their home at Brazil, Ind., tomorrow.

Misses Alma, Hathaway and Matyne Weller and brothers, G. A., Jr., and J. Hayward Weller, and Miss Mary Hawkins, of Owensboro, who have been visiting the former's grandfather, Mr. Jacob Weller, and Miss Kathleen Keith, returned home Friday.

Dr. Oscar McKinney, of Taylor Mines; Dr. Willard Lake, of Simons; Dr. Jesse Bean, of Horse Branch, and Dr. Oscar Allen, of Cromwell, have been examined for duty in the army. Dr. McKinney, of Fordsville, and Dr. C. R. Linton, of Rockport, dentists, have been examined for places in the U. S. Army.

Squire J. H. Miles, of Paradise, was in Hartford Monday on business and was a caller at The Herald office. Squire Miles says that he has one patch of Irish potatoes that are growing so fast that they are pushing one another out of the ground. He reports the best piece of tobacco he has seen on the farm of Mr. P. S. Coleman, near town.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Johnson, of Buel, McLean county, visited Miss Mamie Bennett and Mrs. Charlotte Taylor from Saturday until Monday.

Miss Clara Wallace, daughter of Mr. Shelly Wallace, while out riding Sunday afternoon with several others, fell out of the buggy, as a result of it being run up on the bank while coming down the steep hill at Washington school house, and broke her left arm at the wrist.

Miss Olivia Harrison, of Narrows, has written to the Owensboro recruiting office of the army to ascertain where she can enlist as a Red Cross nurse. Sergeant Mitchell is trying to ascertain at what point the young lady can enlist with the least travel and expense.—Owensboro Messenger.

Henderson Murphree cut a stalk of burley tobacco Monday that was about the finest we have seen around here. It was grown in the patch of about 15 acres that he and Mr. Wm. Riley are raising near town. Henderson says he cut the stalk to see how it would cure. He says he has about three or four acres that he intends cutting the latter part of this week.

CORRECTION.

A few weeks ago a news item appeared in an Owensboro paper (which The Herald copied) stating that young Rex Arbuckle, of Beaver Dam, had been arrested there and was being held for Ohio county officers. The crime with which young Arbuckle was accused was that of stealing a grip containing surgical instruments. The charge proved to be false and in justice to the young man we publish this correction inasmuch as we used the item from the Owensboro paper.

DRYS GET LEGISLATURE.

From reports it seems the next Legislature will be safely "dry" and that in practically every race where the line-up was administration and the "anti's" the dry element or "dry" scored a victory.

Daviss, McLean, Franklin, Mercer, Shelby and other pivotal counties lined squarely on the side of the forces set in sympathy with the attitude of the present State Administration on the liquor question.

Patriotic Corn.

That patriotism is rampant is evidenced by the fact that even farm products are growing in the national colors. Mr. J. I. Clark, of Echols, says that he has grown corn on his place that has produced red, white and blue grains on the ear, and that he has a whole ear of each of red, white and blue corn. So Mr. Clark has not only responded to the country's call for more corn and foodstuffs, but is producing it in the most patriotic way—that of the national colors.

MILTON T. BLACK

Week of Pneumonia.

Mr. Milton T. Black, a prominent farmer, of Route 2, on the old Black homestead, died Saturday night about nine o'clock after an illness of one week of pneumonia.

Mr. Black was a widower, his wife having died about two years ago, and leaves a family of seven boys, ranging in age from five to sixteen.

He was a brother of T. Frank Black, who resides a short distance from town on the Beaver Dam and Hartford Pike.

His funeral was preached at Bethel church, near Norton, by Rev. Wheeler, of Hartford, and interment was in Bethel burying ground, Sunday afternoon, attended by one of the largest crowds who ever attended a funeral in the Ohio country.

DR. RILEY COMMISSIONED;

DR. FORD PASSES TEST

Dr. A. B. Riley has been commissioned First Lieutenant in the Officers' Medical Reserve Corps in the U. S. Army. Dr. Riley has been called, but it is supposed about the same time those who will answer the first call under the selective draft.

Dr. E. W. Ford has been officially notified that he passed the physical examination, which he recently took in Louisville, and it is only a matter of a short time before he will receive his commission.

Hartford is certain to lose these two physicians when the first call is made for active duty.

Dr. Clarence DeWeese, of Fordsville, has received his commission and has been ordered to report to Ft. Riley, Kan., and will leave for his post about the 15th.

HAWKS PLAY HAVOC

WITH FINE CHICKENS

Mr. John Boone, proprietor of the Pumkin Ridge Poultry Farm, at Echols, was here last week, and was in to see the editor while in town.

Mr. Boone raises the full strain White Leghorns, and reports that he sold this year more than he could hatch. (He advertised them in The Herald.)

He says that hawks got into his bunch of young chickens and carried away about forty, and as a result he will have to buy stock to raise from—he generally keeping on hand about three hundred and fifty.

CO. II VOTES THANKS

Office of Co. II, Camp Stanley, Lexington, Ky., Aug. 3, 1917.—Sister Marks and Glenn Hartford, Ky.—While assembled recently, the members of Company II voted unanimously to extend to all of the patriotic citizens who aided us, most hearty thanks for the excellent donation made to the Camp.

But in my opinion, while in this case, are not sufficient, the satisfaction of knowing that we are helping these enlisted men to a more cheerful future than unknown nature is far better.

BOB LYNCHES AN
I. W. W. LEADER
Butte, Montana, Authorities Are Seeking Men Responsible For the Act.

Butte, Mont.—Authorities are making every effort to apprehend the vigilantes who were responsible for the lynching of Frank Little, an I. W. W. leader, last week.

The police officials, the Sheriff and his deputies and the County Attorney all say they have no clue which might lead to the discovery of the identity of the men.

The owner of the rooming house from which Little was taken, was so frightened that she failed to notice which direction the men took when they left with their victim. She stated that she could not recognize any of the men if she were to meet them again.

Members of the Metal Mine Workers' Union in which Little had taken an active part since his arrival in this city, held a meeting to discuss the situation. Although some of the more radical members advised immediate drastic action, conservation prevailed and the leaders advised the men to "keep their mouths shut."

An intensely bitter feeling is prevalent among the miners, and threats of retaliation are frequently heard.

The chief of police has ordered every available detective to make an effort to apprehend the vigilantes, in compliance with Mayor W. H. Magoney's request.

Three hundred members of the National Guard's stationed here are ready for any possible emergency, while additional troopers arrived.

Although the authorities state that they have not a clue leading to the identity of the members of the lynching party, members of the Metal Mine Workers declare that they know five of the men and are on the trail of the sixth and seventh.

QUARREL OVER CARDS

One Soldier Kills Another in American Camp in France.

American Training Camp in France.—Major Gen. John J. Pershing, commander of the American troops, arrived at the training camp for his expected visit which had been postponed from Monday. The program originally arranged for his reception was carried out. He was accompanied by the French Generals and is expected to spend two or three days here inspecting the various billeting places and the training grounds.

There was an unfortunate occurrence in the camp recently. Two soldiers became engaged in a quarrel over a card game, and one of them kicked the other several times in the stomach. The latter crawled away to his billet, where he later was found dead. His assailant is under arrest.

This is the third death that has occurred in the camp, the two other being caused by drowning.

PIGS FATTEN ON FORAGE CROPS

The August Farm and Fireside says:

"Pigs fed on good forage crops will make many times as much profit as those fed dry lots."

The accredited gain in pork to an acre of forage varies, depending upon the crop, the age of the hog, and amount of grain fed. An acre of sweet clover, with corn at $1.50 and hogs at $15 a hundred, netted $42.07; rape, $37.50; alfalfa, $65.90, and a combination of oats, peas and rape, $64.00.

"Of all forage crops, alfalfa is the great permanent crop, while rape is the emergency crop, and green rye the fall and early spring crop. The ideal forage crop should show adaptability to soil and climate, permanency, palatability, reasonable cost of planting, and good pasture at any time during the growing season. Alfalfa, clover, and rape have most of these qualities."

ORDER FERTILIZER EARLY.

Two problems in the handling of fertilizer are declared to confront the country. One is that orders should be made as soon as possible to avoid delay in shipping due to a shortage of cars. The other is that purchases should be pooled, if necessary, in order to secure maximum carload shipments. The American Railway Association has found that in the transportation of fertilizer only about 47 per cent. of the car capacity is now being used. This is on account of the low minimum tonnage of carload shipments. Figures for March show that in the movement of fertilizer on one railroad space to the amount of 17,200 cars was lost by small load.

The co-operative committee on railroad transportation of the Council of National Defense states that it is a grave question whether the traffic of the United States can be moved by the railroads unless every freight car is loaded to its full cubic capacity.

THOUSANDS OF GREEKS ARE STARVED TO DEATH

Paris.—Forty thousand Greeks have been starved to death in Eastern Macedonia since the Bulgarian occupation began, according to authentic reports received by the Greek government, says a Havas dispatch from Athens.

"The Bulgarians," adds the correspondent, "have carried on a systematic persecution of the Greek element in the population looking to its extermination.

"They have inflicted all sorts of privations upon the Greeks, burdening them with military work and deporting them to Bulgarian localities."

THE LITTLE STRANGER.

A boy baby, just a month old, was found Sunday night on Peabody avenue. The dew was heavy on the grass. The sky was clear. The moon looked upon the little face tenderly and with the softness of a mother's smile. The little fellow had been deserted. He had been thrust by alien hands into the world.

This little mite of humanity, helpless, alone, nameless, lay in the moonlight, an appeal to the generosity of some kindly man and woman to guide his future footsteps.

This wee bit of human thistledown, wafted into a living world without his knowledge or consent, was left to guide his future course alone.

This little gift of God, so unappreciated, has become a charge of public charity.

Yet this little stranger is not alone, he is not without friends and he will find when his sleeping brain becomes active that there is always a responsive sympathy which quickens the human heart.

Some of our great men and women in this world came as the little stranger, and became in the end commanding figures in the human family.

Just at present odds are against the little stranger. It is not his fault that he was born. He did not know of his unwelcome advent. He does not know that he is a burden on the public "bounty."

It is not the little stranger's fault that unnatural parents, left him to the tender mercies of men and women with greater and more gracious hearts than theirs.

Perhaps the moonlight, as it tenderly peeped through the shrubbery, where the baby was hidden, brought to him an unknown gift that will fill his future with happiness.

Some woman who has a crying hunger for baby lips, whose heart aches for the touch of a curly head upon her wasted breast, who feels the want of a little one—one whom she can fondle with mother love, may find the little stranger and in the finding a sunbeam will come into the home and the little stranger may find the clouds that now surround his empty babyhood gradually disappearing.

There is a great Father who cherishes all growing things. It is said that He looks affectionately upon his love children and that they will be the beneficiaries of His generous mercy.

Some day, who can say, who can even fashion a surmise, this little stranger may play a great part in the activities of life and he will look his fellowman fearlessly in the eyes and say with that dominant spirit of American manhood, "I am what I am. I am what God intended that I should be. I am a man."

Perhaps some mother's heart today may suffer anguish, for we cannot believe that any woman is so hardened as not to miss her baby's lips.

to feel the loss of the tender clutch of pink fingers, who will not sigh for one more look into the eyes of innocence.

Some mother, we feel sure, will this morning miss the little stranger. In the meantime he cries with lusty lungs and at other times plays with his soft little toes and coos his infant song of content at the Leath Orphanage.

We wonder who will fulfill God's mission, who will open parental arms and make a way for the little stranger, that in time he may come into his own and fight his battle with the world.—[Commercial Appeal.]

115 LIVES TOLL OF HEAT WAVE IN NEW YORK

Endless Stream of Victims Fill Gotham Hospitals During Late Hot Spell.

New York.—Heat claimed the lives of 115 persons in Greater New York last week, while hundreds of others were prostrated.

The city's sweltering millions got only temporary relief from a brief thunderstorm, and the temperature, which went down to 88 with the cooling rain, again started to climb with the reappearance of the sun. The humidity also began to go higher and nightfall found the city's population facing another night of suffering.

A light breeze from the southeast offered some relief, however, in contrast to last night, when the oppressive heat was not tempered by a breeze even at the seashore resorts. Thousands sought the beaches and parks again. All through the day and night ambulances scurried about the city, and hospitals were taxed with seemingly endless stream of heat victims.

Fight To Board Trains.

Physicians from the Board of Health were ordered stationed in the Municipal building station of the subway, the most crowded spot in the city, where scores of prostrations occurred. Trains for Coney Island and other seashore resorts depart from this station, and it was the scene of the greatest congestion, crowds fighting to get aboard the trains.

Five women, prostrated by the heat, lay upon the station platform at one time.

Scores of stores, shops and factories closed at noon and earlier, after many of their young women employees fainted from the heat. In the big department stores the clerks were permitted additional hours of rest.

The "keep off" signs were removed from the grass plots in the parks by order of Mayor Mitchel, who announced that all parks would be open to the public day and night during the heat period.

THE GHOSTS OF '61.

Say the tall bright ghosts in town;
"Why did we fight indeed?"

For a poor king and his crown,
Or for a land in need?

"Rouse!" say the ghosts again.
That drift from door to door,

"Make ready with your fighting men;
Strike for the cause of yore!"

"For if your acres or your gold,"
Say the tall bright ghosts again,

"Are more than what we saved of old,
Ye are but dogs, not men!"

"Rouse! for the hour is come;
If you love your lives too well,

Then will we stare you blind and dumb.
And haunt you down to hell!"

ASK THE ELEVATOR BOY.

Ask the elevator boy why mirrors are put in the car which he directs for the convenience and comfort of people who are not disposed to climb up and down stairs.

It will be interesting to note just what the elevator boy thinks of the mirror and to listen to his explanation as to its possible value. He usually is quite an observing gentleman, well versed in the ups and downs of his business.

It will also be interesting for a casual observer to note for himself what possible value the introduction has in a car devoted exclusively to business purposes.

In Los Angeles a city ordinance has been enacted requiring the owners of all elevators in that city decorated with mirrors to have them at once removed. A similar law has been prepared and will be submitted to the General Assembly of California.

It is claimed that women too often put the finishing touches to their toilet before the mirror and that while thus engaged they occupy too much room and neglect their stopping floor, to their own inconvenience and to the annoyance of the passengers in a hurry.

It has been said and accepted as true that nine out of 10 women can never pass a mirror without giving themselves "the once over." It is natural. It is the display of unconscious conceit which was given to the daughters of men by Mother Eve.

Commissioner Boyd of the California State Industrial Accident Commission, in explanation of the ban placed on the "lift" mirror, declares that "mirrors are often smashed and particles inflict wounds on occupants, especially the eyes." He points to several recent damage suits resulting from such accidents. Continuing, Commissioner Boyd further explains "that women are too busy examining themselves to pay proper attention to which floor they want to reach, and finally, 'the mirror serves no really useful purpose except to distract the attention of the occupants and in the business of riding in or of operating an elevator car no one has any business in having their attention distracted."

There is much truth in what the California Commissioner has to say, but, then, it must be added that there is no real reason why the ladies should not admire themselves and put the necessary touches to their toilet that they may become more bewitching in the eyes of men, for it is natural that we feel an intense satisfaction in letting our eyes rest upon the daughters of men when we find them fair. —[Memphis Commercial Appeal].

GIRLS THEY LEAVE BEHIND.

We do not know his name—he did not sign the letter. But on the verge of sailing for "somewhere in France," the boy wrote and asked us to say a word for the soldiers and sailors who "left their girls behind them," giving a clear field to hangback rivals.

"I'm not afraid," he said. "We must die somewhere sometime and I'd rather go down under the Stars and Stripes than a falling safe or a joy-ride's automobile. Lots of people do every day."

"What held me back from enlisting earlier was a girl that I certainly do love an awful lot."

"I asked her to write to me regularly and promise not to get married to anybody while I was away. And she said she liked me too much for that."

"But you know how it is when you are not on hand with the glad talk and the theater tickets and she doesn't see you for months—they get used to missing you."

"And I thought if somebody like you would print a little something suggesting that if every girl whose steady was ready to fight for America, would promise him that she'd pass up the others while he was at front, it would help thousands of young fellows to make up their minds. I saw an article in the paper which you wrote about 'cuckoos,' meaning doctors and lawyers or men enough to steal the practice of doctors and lawyers who were away fighting. But I think the worst

'cuckoo' of all is the placker who snitches a soldier's sweetheart. That's a good name for them, too. Will you please write something that will hit the mark?"

"But after reading his letter, we're sure that the boy himself has done that. So we've reprinted it in the hope that it may catch the eye of all the girls they left behind them." —Herbert Kaufman.

HOW TO HAVE GOOD PASTURE

In the August Farm and Fireside, we read:

"While better results in pasturing are obtained early in the season on burned-over fields, the ultimate effect upon the stand of grass, and especially of the choice forage stand, is bound to be bad. The burning cannot help destroying the crowns of many of the plants and also much of the seed that might have been dropped the previous year, as well as any plantlets just starting."

"The early growth of grass left without any protection from the previous year's crops, together with early grazing while the soil is damp, provides ideal conditions for the weakening of many plants and the total elimination of the choicest, tenderest of them sooner or later under the burning system of pasture management."

"Some work has been done in mowing to control weed growth. Results to date indicate that weeds can be effectively controlled, especially on the level areas where weeds are growing to the exclusion of all forage plants. Where the grass stand is good and the weeds are few, mowing has been detrimental to the growth of grass even when cut as late as August 15th."

During the nesting season the bluebird may be found in the United States (west to Arizona, Colorado, Wyoming and Montana), southern Canada, Mexico and Guatemala. In the winter it is found in the southern half of the eastern United States and south to Guatemala.

We do not know his name—he did not sign the letter. But on the verge of sailing for "somewhere in France," the boy wrote and asked us to say a word for the soldiers and sailors who "left their girls behind them," giving a clear field to hangback rivals.

"I'm not afraid," he said. "We must die somewhere sometime and I'd rather go down under the Stars and Stripes than a falling safe or a joy-ride's automobile. Lots of people do every day."

"What held me back from enlisting earlier was a girl that I certainly do love an awful lot."

"I asked her to write to me regularly and promise not to get married to anybody while I was away. And she said she liked me too much for that."

"And I thought if somebody like you would print a little something suggesting that if every girl whose steady was ready to fight for America, would promise him that she'd pass up the others while he was at front, it would help thousands of young fellows to make up their minds. I saw an article in the paper which you wrote about 'cuckoos,' meaning doctors and lawyers or men enough to steal the practice of doctors and lawyers who were away fighting. But I think the worst

DON'T HAMPER THE FARMER

Before a year has passed nearly a million men now engaged in productive occupations will be called to the colors in the war for humanity and decency. About a fourth of this number will probably be drawn from agricultural pursuits, cattle raising and the like. This will put a strain on our farmers, who have been urged to do everything in their power to make their lands yield their maximum possible return. Our farmers have responded nobly to the nation's call for all the food they can produce, but of what use is it to produce food supplies if they can not be delivered to market? Corn that stays in the farmers' cribs, as it was held for months during last winter in many parts of the corn belt, does nobody any good. Wheat that stays on the farms of Kansas as it stayed last winter helps only the rats.

What is the sense of the railroads cutting ditches with the transportation system of the country, if the feeders of the railroads our public roads to shipping points, are to be neglected so that the good work of the farmers is rendered of little avail by inability to get the stuff from the land into the cars? There are a few hysterical persons in office who seem to because their grandfathers did not have them. They forgot that their grandfathers did not have to feed 100,000,000 American mouths, not to mention lot of hungry ones among the 46,000,000 people of Great Britain and Ireland and the 40,000,000 of France. All grandfather had to do was to supply food for 23,000,000 persons. His ways are edifying to read about but worthless to copy now. Why hamper the farmer who is working from dawn to dusk to help win the war by making him try to haul our food supplies over roads that grandfather knew very well were wretched?

WRITES LETTER AND THEN COMMITS SUICIDE

The lifeless body of Mrs. Van Martin was found hanging in an upstairs room at her home last Tuesday at noon by her two little sons who had come from school to dinner. She had used a staging cord with which to hang herself, had made the cord several plies strong, fastening one end around a rafter and the other around her neck and jumped from a window to the floor, her feet touching the floor. She seemingly died from strangulation. The following letter was left on the dining room table where the children's noon meal had been placed: "Van I love you, but must leave you, sweet darling; I am heart broken and must die, bury me at Walnut Grove, I am going to do not know where. Tell Henry to get homes for Estie and Willie. Take Van's money and put me away as cheap as possible. I wish I could stay here and be happy but I can't bury me as quick as possible, I don't want my children to see me—O, my boys will be slain in war! I can not bear my troubles! I trust the Lord will save me. It seems I have died a thousand deaths. O, my heart is broken. It is now 10 o'clock. Look upstairs."—Green River Republican.
